Thank you for making Coon Rapids your home. This residential code handbook is designed to help residents of Coon Rapids better understand the rules and regulations governing activity in the residential neighborhoods of our City. Over a period of many years, Coon Rapids City Councils have adopted these regulations in order to maintain harmony and a quality of life within our community.

PROPERTY MAINTENANCE

Property Maintenance responds to nuisance and zoning code complaints concerning property use, outdoor storage, trash, signs and junk vehicles, as well as responding to inquiries and performing annual inspections of parcels to ensure Code compliance. Property Maintenance is an activity within the Community Development Department.

In the event that a property is in violation of one or more sections of the City Code, an Administrative Citation is delivered to the property owner. This citation states the section(s) of the City Code found in violation on the property and provides a time frame for compliance. If compliance is not met or an appeal filed within this time frame, a fine will be immediately assessed to the property. The City may also enter onto the property, remedy the violation(s) and assess to the property the costs incurred in removing the affected items. Property Maintenance staff will work with property owners to help them reach compliance within the desired time frame.

Most concerns can be expressed to the departments listed in the following pages. Where numbers are not listed, call Property Maintenance at 763-767-6470 or email us at code@coonrapidsmn.gov.

ANIMALS (City Code Chapter 6-100)

All dogs and cats kept, harbored or maintained within the City must be licensed and registered.

Every owner is responsible for the control and custody of their dog or cat, and every person in custody of the animal should be of sufficient age to adequately control the animal at all times. While the animal is off of the owner’s property, “control and custody” means on a leash no longer than six feet.

It is in violation of City Code to own, keep, have in possession or harbor any dog that howls, yelps or barks in such a way that unreasonably disturbs the peace and quiet of another person.

City Code requires that you clean up after your pet. It is a violation to allow your dog to defecate on private property without the property owner’s consent or on public property unless the excrement is immediately placed in a proper receptacle.

A property owner with three or more dogs, cats or any combination thereof is required to obtain a multiple pet permit.

A kennel license is required for any location where dogs and/or cats are kept for the business of selling, boarding for a fee, breeding for sale or some other enterprise intended primarily for profit making purposes, including pet stores.

Kennel licenses and multiple pet permits are issued by the Coon Rapids Police Department at 763-767-6481.

Dog licenses and cat registrations are issued by the City Clerk; call 763-755-2880.

Non-domestic animals are not allowed. For further details, please see City Code 6-500 on the city website.

See Chicken section for additional information regarding chicken regulations.

Animal complaints should be registered with the Police Department by calling 911.

Dog Bites: Anyone who has knowledge of a person being bitten by a dog must immediately notify the Police Department. The dog must be confined and quarantined for ten days. Failure to notify is a petty misdemeanor.

BALCONY BARBECUES (City Code Section 12-419)

City Code prohibits any fire or open flame on any balcony above ground level or on any ground floor patio immediately adjacent to or within 15 feet of any unit in a structure that contains two or more vertically stacked residential units. Additional information can be obtained from the Fire Department at 763-767-6429.

BOULEVARD ENCROACHMENTS (City Code Chapter 8-1000)

Encroachments (bushes, rocks, landscaping, retaining walls, permanent and temporary basketball hoops, etc.) are not permitted within the public right-of-way. Exceptions include mailboxes, traffic signs, City-approved trees, and fire hydrants.

BUILDING INSPECTION

The Building Inspection Division responds to concerns regarding the maintenance of buildings and other structures. The Building Maintenance and Occupancy Code (City Code Chapter 12-300) provides minimum standards for the maintenance of existing buildings to protect the character and stability of all buildings and properties in the City. This Code includes minimum standards for heating, sanitation, ventilation, light and maintenance for existing buildings. For more information regarding building maintenance requirements, call 763-767-6476.

BUILDING PERMITS

(City Code Chapters 12-100, 12-200, 12-300) Building permits are required for all new home construction and most home improvements, including decks, garages, storage sheds over 200 square feet in area, additions, re-roofs, re-sides, basement finishes, water heaters, plumbing fixtures and furnaces, and windows and patio doors. The permit procedure ensures the structure will meet state standards and building code requirements.

Building and electrical permits may be obtained from the Building Inspection Division located in the City Center. If your project is to be performed by a contractor, the contractor must meet certain licensing and bonding requirements and the contractor is required to obtain the permit. All electrical work requires a permit which is now issued by the City rather than the State. For more information on the permitting process, call the Building Inspection Division at 763-767-6476.

An inspection appointment requires advance notice. During busy periods the wait for an inspection may be several days.

CATCH BASINS AND STORM DRAINS

The storm water drains and catch basins drain untreated runoff directly into the Mississippi River. The dumping of debris or any material into storm water drains and catch basins is illegal. Homeowners can help prevent pollution of waterways by picking up pet waste on a daily basis, keeping lawn fertilizers off paved surfaces and limiting its use, and never allowing oils or antifreeze to leak from vehicles or be washed into the street. To report a problem with a storm drain, contact the Street Division at 763-767-6462.

CHICKENS (City Code 6-700)

The City allows the raising and keeping of chickens on residential properties. A permit process is required to keep chickens which includes applying for a permit, paying a fee, providing a site plan and site inspections of the property and coop. City Code allows up to four chicken hens. Roosters are prohibited. Before applying for a permit, please read the full ordinance and requirements. Contact The Neighborhood Reinvestment Division at 763-767-6470 for further information.

COMPOSTING (City Code Chapter 8-1600)

Backyard composting must be enclosed in an approved container and size according to lot size. Location of the container must meet property line requirements. Process approved materials only, such as greens, browns, and food waste that do not contain animal or animal bi-products such as meat, bones, oils, etc. Compost needs to be managed to produce effective decomposition. Containers and compost not in compliance with this code may be declared a public nuisance.

Notes:

MINNESOTA NIGHT TO UNITE

On the first Tuesday evening of August, Minnesota celebrates Night to Unite (formerly National Night Out) which involves citizens, law enforcement agencies, civic groups, businesses, neighborhood organizations and local officials.

Night to Unite is designed to heighten crime and drug prevention awareness, generate support for and participation in local anti-crime programs, strengthen neighborhood spirit and police-community partnerships, and to send a message to criminals letting them know that neighborhoods are organized and fighting back.

Night to Unite is an effective, inexpensive and enjoyable program to promote neighborhood spirit and police-community partnerships in our fight for a safer nation. Benefits derived from Night to Unite most certainly extend well beyond the night.

Contact the Police Department at 763-767-6481 for information about this event. Early registration is required to arrange visits to your event by police and fire units.
